1. Claims 1, 3-5, 14, 16, 18-25 and 27-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent No. 5,853,600 (hereinafter referred to as McNeal et al). McNeal et al teach a blood collection device comprising a tube (10) defining an inner surface and a closed end and thixotropic gel material (24) selectively deposited on the inner surface of the tube (10) in a form of discrete stripes or continuous bands by distributing gel to the central inner surface of the tube relative to the end of the tube via axially centrifuging the gel and dispersing the gel evenly into channels between ribs (20) (see figures 3 and 6-9; col. 3, line 8 – col. 4, line 6). McNeal et al teach the method of placing blood in the above described tube and centrifuging blood (see figures 1-6; col. 2, line 60 - col. 4, line 46). Dispensing apparatus is any means for axially centrifuging the tube. The limits of the portion of the central inner surface of the tube where the gel is dispensed are predetermined by the volume of the gel in the tube with a different number of internal ribs and ribs of differing dimensions (see col. 3, lines 16-19).

2. Claims 6-11, 15, 17, 26 and 29 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

3. Claim 30 is allowed.

4. Applicant's argument filed 2/19/03 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO

In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
